The Energy Efficiency and Conservation Authority (EECA) is the government agency that works to improve the energy efficiency of New Zealand homes and businesses, and encourage the uptake of renewable energy. Bioenergy Association has a Collaboration Agreement with EECA which sets out a process for working collaboratively to advance the respective objectives and responsibilities with regard to expanding the use of biomass energy.

EECA and Bioenergy Association undertake projects in all three areas of bioenergy (Waste-to-energy, wood energy and liquid biofuels) which contribute to the implementation of the tasks set out in the New Zealand Energy Efficiency and Conservation Strategy (NZECS).
